

Workshop to activate the role (MIS) in the mechanization of the work the university departments

A project management information systems (MIS) on Tuesday 17/7/2012 a workshop for graduate studies, research and information center, documentation and decision support for the role of Administrative Information Systems in the localization and activation of automating the administrative work of those sectors and in the presence of directors of the Department of Graduate Studies and the Centre for Information and Documentation .