

Workshop to automate the Human Resources

The Management Information Systems Center at Benha University organized a workshop to automate the Human Resources on Wednesday, 21/11/2012 at the Faculty of Medicine in the presence of representatives from Human Resources Departments at the University faculties.

Management Information system
Information and Communication
Technology Project

Benha University News

