Benha University News

Service to create Sites for Faculty Members

Such service allows the faculty members to control the shape of the site, change and edit its menus and contents. The service also may allow creating library and uploading the different data. The service may allow creating personal blog